Bill Passed to Pay Wages to Prisoners

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Senate approved an administration bill Thursday to pay a select number of penitentiary inmates an incentive wage of 20 cents an hour.

Approval came on a 19-13 vote, but transmittal of the bill to the House for consideration was delayed when Sen. John F. "Mutt" Gibson of Dermott gave notice that he might seek another Senate vote.

Earlier in the day, the Senate passed an administration bill to authorize the state Correction Department to spend $300,000 from its capital construction fund for the purchase of a site for a new women's reformatory to replace the well-worn facility at Cummins Prison Farm. The vote was 31-0.

In House action, the representatives:

—Defeated 34-44 a bill that would have abolished the fee system as a way of providing salaries, expenses and other allowances for county officials.

—Defeated a measure that would have allowed the creation of district public defender offices to furnish legal counsel to indigents in each of the judicial circuits. The vote was 42-36, with 51 votes required for passage, but the bill may be brought up again for reconsideration by Rep. Charles Honey of Prescott.

The Senate bill to pay inmates would provide that no more than $25,000 could be spent in any one year for such payments, amounting to about 230 working days for 50 inmates. The measure would require the money to be drawn from prison profits rather than from state general revenues. The program could be terminated after one year if it were unsuccessful.

Sen. John F. Bearden of Leachville said the payments would be rewards to convicts who took good care of equipment and probably would result in more efficient and productive use of farm machinery and land.

He said that time during which equipment cannot be used because it had been broken to total 147 days on four prison tractors, apparently because of misuse.

Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton said some other way of

Here Are Some Things That Make Your Life Seem Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make living worthwhile:

Finding a perfect seashell on a forlorn shore.
Reading poetry by firelight.
Waiting for a door to open and let the right one in.

Carrying a drowsy child upstairs to put it to bed.
The time-tangy smell of an old abandoned barn in June.

Watching a spider spin its web—and feeling superior because you're too big to be caught in it.

Whooping in barefoot pursuit of an agile frog in shallow waters.

Coming upon the first lovely dandelion of spring in your front yard—and wondering if your neighbors with perfect lawns would mind if you just left it there in yellow glory instead of uprooting it.

Receiving a telegram saying the job is yours if you still want it.

Getting a long letter saying her life isn't the same since you left and that she'll marry you if you still want her.

Turkey Army Threatens to Take Over

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Suleiman Demirel resigned today after the armed forces threatened a takeover.

Turkey's four top commanders had demanded a new government "strong and respected enough" to halt "anarchy" and carry out basic economic and social reforms.

The military leaders have been dissatisfied for some time with the unrest and the failure of Demirel's government to accomplish basic economic and social reforms.

"The continuing attitude and behavior of the Parliament and government has pushed our country into anarchy, fratricide and social and economic unrest," the service chiefs said.

They said the republic has been seriously endangered by the failure of the government to carry out reforms called for by the constitution and that the public has lost hope of the country's reaching the level of contemporary civilization.

The statement called for a new government to be formed "above party politics" to accomplish the reforms.

"If this is not speedily realized, the Turkish armed forces are determined to seize power to protect the Turkish Republic as is their duty according to law," the statement said.

SS Issue Now Before the Senate

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic-engineered shortcut to a quick boost in Social Security benefits for 26 million citizens reached the Senate floor today, ready for passage.

By attaching the $5 billion provision to a House-passed bill boosting the national debt limit, the Democratic strategists skipped past a White House plan by allowing recipients a 10 to 56 per cent benefit boost several months sooner than the administration proposal.

The original bill increases the debt limit to a record $430 billion, $35 billion over the present ceiling.

The amendment provides at least a 10 per cent across-the-board increase for all Social Security recipients. At the same time, the current $64 minimum monthly payment to individuals goes up 56 per cent to an even $101 monthly.

The $100 minimum faces a doubtful fate, however, because of the opposition of House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

Mills will head the House conference on the bill. He has indicated it will go along with a straight 10 per cent hike, raising the minimum to $70.40.

The average retired individual now gets $118 a month and a couple $198 under Social Security. The Senate provision would raise this to $136 and $223 respectively.

Social Security taxes also will be boosted. Effective next year, the taxable wage base goes from $7,800 to $9,000, which means an extra $62.40 each for the worker earning at least $9,000. His employer pays the same.

The increased payments, retroactive to Jan. 1, probably will not be reflected in the monthly checks until July 3 to allow for the Social Security Administration to make the changes.

Even so, the Democratic plan calls for the higher payments much sooner than under the procedure recommended by the administration this year.

The President asked that the increases be considered as part of an omnibus measure also including complex welfare reform provisions.

Democratic leaders decided to split off Social Security and deal with it separately after concluding it would take too long to work out a satisfactory revision of the welfare program.

While most Hope and Hempstead County residents went about their normal activities Thursday, March 11, city and county officials faced a nuclear attack, followed by a power failure, a major fire, a blocked bridge, and nuclear fallout.

The officials, some thirty (30) persons representing all major departments of the city and county, were participating in an Emergency Operations Simulations (EOS) Training Exercise, sponsored by the State Office of Civil Defense and administered by the Civil Defense University Extension Program from State College of Arkansas.

It took only a few minutes in the operations room set up for the exercise to shake any feelings of "playing a game" that participants might have felt before the exercise began. The room was equipped with emergency telephones, maps of disaster areas, a mark-up board

WASHINGTON (AP) — The emotion-filled issue of textile imports has set up another confrontation between President Nixon and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, the most powerful member of Congress in the field of taxes and foreign trade.

The President and the Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, already are antagonists on revenue sharing, a prime Nixon project Mills says he will fight to the end. But the textile quarrel injects a strongly personal element into the disagreement.

Mills, dealing directly with Japanese leaders, had been a principal mover in bringing about an offer by the Japanese textile industry to curb imports to the United States.

Although free-trade congressmen praised Mills' efforts, the U.S. textile industry objected strongly to the Japanese offer as inadequate.

Nixon came out on the U.S. industry's side Thursday, saying the Japanese program "will not result in an acceptable solution."

In addition, the President ordered Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans to monitor monthly imports of wool and manmade-textile products from Japan.

Offers Plan to Aid Court Congestion

By BARRY SCHWEID

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Chief Justice Warren E. Burger proposed today a national center to help state courts avert a crisis of congestion.

In a speech to a national judiciary conference Burger said the courts are "suffering from a severe case of deferred maintenance."

He said Americans may lose patience with a system hardly changed since the 18th century, particularly when they wait up to four years to have a civil suit tried "while they witness a flagrant defiance of law by a growing number of law-breakers."

"The noblest legal principles will be sterile and meaningless if they cannot be made to work," the chief justice said.

His proposed national center would help the states pool ideas about reforming their courts.

He suggested close cooperation with the American Bar Association and other bar groups.

A similar center already is in operation to assist the federal courts. Meanwhile, largely at the urging of Burger, federal and state judges in 32 states

State Prepares for Increase in Tax Take

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Procedures for handling the increase in the state's income tax were to be formulated today during a meeting of state Revenue Department officials.

State Revenue Commissioner A. B. Hervey said that among the details to be worked out in the meeting are revised tax scales, notification of employers and how the increase will be handled by the state office.

The administration's bill to raise income tax rates was signed into law by Gov. Dale Bumpers March 4. The rate revision will produce about half of the revenue of the governor's tax package.

Army Plans $10 Million Ad Campaign

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marines, Navy and Air Force fear the Army's new $10.6 million prime-time advertising campaign for enlistees will damage their own recruiting efforts.

Their apprehensions were revealed in a private Marine Corps memo which described a meeting last month where the Army ad campaign was unveiled.

The memo and subsequent interviews also showed the Office of the Secretary of Defense was surprised by the scale of the Army ad program and is concerned that an inter-service advertising war could develop.

An assistant secretary of defense has clamped a lid on any further contracts for paid radio and television time until the 13-week Army program can be evaluated.

The soft-sell adds began March 1 on the three major television networks and on radio stations in more than 1,200 markets. They mark the military's first use of paid radio and television advertising. Traditionally, the services have depended on free public service air time—usually in less desirable time periods.

According to the Marine "memorandum for the record" on the Feb. 20 meeting, the Marines and Navy both expressed fears they would lose free advertising time on stations which reasoned that if one service could pay, all should pay. Concern also was expressed over an Army plan to give bonuses to some enlistees.

The Army said at the meeting that the program would assist all services in signing up volunteers, but, according to the memo, the other services did not concur.

Paul Wollstadt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for manpower research and utilization, who chaired the meeting, said in an interview that the scale of the Army program was "greater than we had contemplated."

To ease the threat of any ad war, he said, Assistant Defense Secretary Roger T. Kelley recently told all services that at the end of a three-month Army program, "we are going to make an evaluation and no service is authorized to obligate itself for any additional television or radio time without review with his office."

According to data inserted in the Congressional Record, at least four television stations have rejected the paid ads—

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops in Laos have pulled out of their positions closest to Sepone and moved southeast toward the Vietnamese border, headquarters officers reported.

Sofia was the closest fixed base to Sepone set up by the South Vietnamese after they advanced to the devastated junction town on Route 9 last Saturday. No further advance westward has been reported; the Saigon troops have been sweeping for enemy forces and supply caches in the area and to the southeast along a front of about 25 miles.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper, reporting from South Vietnamese northern headquarters at Ham Nghi, said staff officers told him some of the Saigon troops moved six miles southeast of Sofia. This would put them 8½ miles from Sepone.

Esper said other troops moved eastward toward the Vietnamese border near the fire base called Lolo.

Sepone was a main transshipment point on the Ho Chi Minh trail network through southeast Laos, and at the start of the South Vietnamese drive Feb. 8 it was reported to be the first major target of the drive.

But the South Vietnamese said this week that they had not occupied Sepone because it was in a valley and therefore vulnerable to attack. Instead they sent reconnaissance units in and out of the deserted ruins all week while holding positions on the high ground.

Meanwhile, American helicopters returned in force to the skies over the panhandle as the weather improved. The U.S. Command said American choppers flew nearly 1,200 sorties in Laos after two days of heavy fog and low clouds. The weather had cut the daily traffic to 160 sorties or less.

The flights Thursday included about 500 gunship sorties, attacking enemy troops to support the South Vietnamese; 300 troop lifts; 350 supply flights and 40 to evacuate casualties.

With the renewal of helicopter activity, the U.S. Command announced the loss of five more of the aircraft on Thursday and a sixth last Saturday. One American was killed, seven were wounded and two are missing in the crashes.

Although the weather grounded the helicopters, America's above-the-weather B52 bombers kept up their attacks on the Ho Chi Minh trail network, and today South Vietnamese headquarters reported finding more hundreds of North Vietnamese killed by the big bombers.

A 25 year old Negro listed as Ben P. McGary has been charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of between $300 and $500 Thursday from Weaver's Grocery Store in Fulton.

The money was taken when a store attendant went to the front to put gas in an auto. The suspect was arrested late Thursday by the Hempstead County Sheriff and Deputies. He was released on bond Friday. Officers said part of the money had been recovered.

Vietnamese Pull Back to Avoid Trap

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops in Laos pulled out of their positions closest to Sepone today and moved southeast toward the Vietnamese border, headquarters officers reported.

The officers said a regiment of infantrymen abandoned Fire Base Sofia, 2½ miles southeast of the key communications point 25 miles inside Laos, to avoid being trapped by North Vietnamese forces.

Highway Bond Issue Goes to Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House voted Thursday to send back to Gov. Dale Bumpers a bill that would call a special election May 18 on a proposed $300 million highway construction bond issue, but the governor says he still has not decided what to do with the measure.

The General Assembly passed the bill earlier, but Bumpers was prepared to veto it because he had not had enough time to give the measure sufficient study.

The House, in an attempt to give him more time, recalled the bill from the governor's office Wednesday. Thursday's action by the House gives Bumpers five days in which to decide the fate of the measure.

Bumpers met Thursday with members of the state Highway Commission and the governor's staff to talk about the bill's potential for highway construction.

You have to remember that these people are under pressure all the time, though, from people who want roads built," Bumpers said. "Highway construction is their only frame of reference. I have to take other things into account when I

Man Shot to Death in Robbery Try

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Richard Raynor, 25, of Little Rock was shot to death Thursday during an armed robbery.

Police said Raynor apparently walked into Porter's Grocery in Little Rock with a sawed-off shotgun and instructed the store's owner, Mrs. Willie Porter, 69, to open the cash register.

Mrs. Porter opened the register and Raynor began taking the money, police said. Officers said Mrs. Porter shot Raynor once with a .22 caliber pistol while he was collecting the money or as he began to walk away.

William F. Porter, a partner in the Little Rock "Buffalo Bill" store, said he was not injured in the robbery. He said he was in the store when Raynor entered and began taking the money.

Legal Service for Poor Plan Moving Ahead

By TOM SEPPY

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is moving ahead of the Nixon administration in proposing transformation of the antipoverty agency's embattled legal-services program into an independent corporation.

Legislation establishing a quasi-public agency similar to the Public Broadcasting Corp. is expected to be introduced next week with bipartisan support over a broad spectrum of political persuasion.

The bill would establish the "National Corporation for Legal Services," a private, non-profit agency to provide legal assistance for the poor. The agency would be run by an 18-member board and funded through the Office of Economic Opportunity. Estimates of the annual cost range from the $61 million spent for the current program to $140 million.

OEO Director Frank Carlucci said in January the administration would offer its legal-services bill in February. OEO officials now say, "It's still being worked on."

The plan expected in Congress has been endorsed in principle by the Nixon administration, the Presidential Commission on Governmental Reorganization and two major committees of the American Bar Association.

But despite the wide agreement in principle, some disagreement is expected over who the OEO lawyers will represent and how they will do it.

Congressional sources say Senate and House members are going ahead with their own plan because they fear the administration version would place too many restrictions on the lawyers.

$60,000 for Slaughter Facilities

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Joint Budget Committee of the Arkansas Legislature today approved $60,000 for the construction of a new slaughter house-cold storage facility and a canning factory at Cummins Prison Farm.

The committee, however, deferred action on other proposed construction and improvement projects at the prison. Among the projects on which action was postponed were $350,000 for a minimum security building and $300,000 for a women's reformatory.

The committee balked at approving the use of $992,525 in state Police funds to build five district headquarter buildings and an administration building. There was some sentiment for slashing the request, but the committee finally decided to postpone action until it had more information on the state Police construction program.

Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin wondered why the funds were being set aside for the State Police for construction when the legislature approved a $1 a year increase in the driver license fee two years ago to provide more troopers and raise trooper salaries. He said he would rather repeat if the money were not going to hire more troopers and increase salaries.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ECOLOGY, POLLUTION: POPULAR ISSUE OR MAJOR ISSUE?

Dear Helen:

Is this ecology-pollution kick we're on just a fad like bomb shelters and air raid watches—and probably population control too? I wonder if we'll still be scurrying around to "ecology centers" and madly collecting bottles, etc. five years from now—or will something else have taken front-center in our reform drive? —DOUBTFUL

Dear Doubtful:

Five years from now—I HOPE—pollution-ecology education will be so widespread that we will no longer need to "scurry around" campaigning. Presently, waking people up to the dangers is everybody's job. And my correspondents do their share. Read on:

Dear Helen:

I have never before been motivated to write to a columnist, but one of your letters really hit home.

To "Mrs. H.S. from Texas" (who says manufacturers should take some of the pollution-burden) I say, "Hurrah." She put down on paper what I've been thinking for months! All those wonderfully packaged, brightly colored, conveniently designed, easy-use goodies are there for the buying—and then we're asked to turn our backs on them, choosing instead the items that cause us more work and less beauty, like returnable bottles, and white shelf paper.

Now here's another point to add to her list: In buying a certain, naturally low phosphate, washing soap for the past six months, I discovered the price had suddenly jumped in one week from $1.12 to $1.53 for five pounds (with a big advertising splash about its great low-phosphate virtue). How despicable that manufacturers are cashing in on housewives' cooperation in the battle against pollution. I no longer feel the guilt I once did for, as Mrs. H.S. said, "Changes must be made at the source." —MRS. A.D.

Dear Helen:

"Mrs. H.S. from Texas" said, "Let the government do it." The reason we find our government in such a bureaucratic mess is we've said this too often and too long. The individual citizen doesn't want to take responsibility. Why should we expect the government to tell industry it can or can't make a product when a buyers' boycott of a harmful item is far more effective? The company will soon change! The best way to enforce a "No no" is not to remove it from reach but to offer a better replacement—after teaching the danger of the first.

Take away freedom of choice and responsibility from the individual and he becomes an automaton. Is this what Mrs. H.S. would like to see? —MRS. B.G.

Dear Helen:

Salvage centers are multiplying. The health of the Earth is in our hands. Maybe it's a "nuisance" having three garbage cans (for aluminum, bottles and garbage) and carting recyclables to centers, but this little start may grow into great awareness. Manufacturers constantly feel the public pulse and when they know we won't stand for pollution (and that means the bigger dirt in our air and waterways) they'll come around. Our job is to educate! And that includes flooding our Congressmen and lawmakers with millions of letters. Have at it, people! —CINDY: MRS. V.C.

Dear Helen:

The industries are already spending billions to find solutions for pollution. Is it too much to ask that we expend a little effort, instead of expecting Big Brother (the government) to do it all? We the people are the cause of pollution, not the factory, not the automobile, not the government. When enough of us admit this and stop buying pollutants and using them carelessly we will begin to see results. —JOHN T.

Dear Mrs. Bottel:

A while back one of your pollution-conscious readers complained bitterly about the packaging of a box of crackers: About the "heavy plastic bag and then the four individually wrapped packages."

While she mentioned no brand name, we believe she referred to our product.

We would like to point out that the plastic bag and inner separate air tight packages DO keep the product fresher for considerably longer periods. The new packaging was developed to meet the desires and needs of our customers, many of whom live in damp areas where crispness disappears overnight. Sales have zoomed, proving the need.

We've had letters from pleased customers who report that a flooded kitchen left almost all packaged food a soggy mess except our thoughtfully wrapped crackers. We even received a report on the cargo of a sunken boat—we'll let you guess what came up "krispy."

Also, the polyethylene bag does not need to be burned. It has a long life and many uses in the kitchen. —SUNSHININGLY YOURS, H.S., PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR, SUNSHINE BISCUITS, INC. (Kitchen-flooders and boat-sinkers of the world: Help is at hand! —H.)

Art Sale Brings in $565,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Huntington Hartford's art sale, which he said was prompted by being "hard up for cash," has brought him $566,000.

Biggest price received at the auction Wednesday in the Parke-Bernet galleries was $150,000 for a painting by Mary Cassatt called "Summertime." A gallery spokesman said the price was an auction record for a woman artist.

Salvatore Dali's "Discovery of America," which the A&P heir commissioned, went for $100,000.

Harrison
Gobbles Up
Fairview

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Harrison Gobblers threw up a stout defense in the fourth quarter and defeated Camden Fairview 48-39 Thursday night to be the semifinals of the Class AA state basketball tournament.

Harrison, ranked No. 4 in The Associated Press poll, plays Marvell at 8 p.m. tonight in one semifinal game and Magnolia meets Subiaco at 12:30 p.m. in the other semifinal. Marvell advanced to the semifinals with a 68-53 victory over Warren. Magnolia and Subiaco reached the semifinals Wednesday.

Harrison trailed by one point at the half and then gained a 36-35 lead at the end of the third quarter. The Gobblers' defense went to work in the final period and held the Cardinals to four points.

Don Smith paced Harrison with 12 points while Mel Blackwood and Steve Sharp contributed 11 each. Bill Kennedy paced Fairview with 16 points and Charlie Robertson added 13.

Marvell led Warren by three points in the half, but widened its advantage in the third quarter by holding the Lumberjacks to seven points. Accurate free throw shooting by Larnet Sims and Enos Mitchell kept Marvell safely ahead in the fourth quarter.

Sims paced Marvell with 20 points and James Martin added 14. Mitchell contributed 11. Jerry Watts paced Warren with 21 points.

El Dorado
Upsets
Horace Mann

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—El Dorado, a 30-point loser to Little Rock Horace Mann two weeks ago, upset the form chart Thursday by whipping the Bearcats 64-62 in the quarterfinals of the Class AAAA state basketball tournament.

El Dorado, 7-20 for the season, meets North Little Rock at 6:30 p.m. today in one semifinal game while Fort Smith Northside takes on Little Rock Central at 3:30 p.m. in the other semifinal. Kent Rust scored a record 34 points to pace North Little Rock to an 85-58 victory over Pine Bluff Thursday night.

Northside, the conference champion, and Central reached the semifinals Wednesday.

Mann, which finished second in conference play and compiled a 24-2 season record, seemingly had El Dorado outclassed. The Bearcats jumped off to a 10-point halftime lead but the Wildcats stayed close.

David McDaniel's field goal with 4:50 to go tied the score 54-54 and Jimmy Jones' jump shot put the Wildcats ahead 56-54 with 4:05 remaining. The Wildcats retained a two to four point until the final minute when they began to stall. However, McDaniel and Jones hit two free throws each in the final 50 seconds to keep El Dorado ahead. Mann's last second effort by Andrea Bohannon missed.

"We just didn't have it," said Mann Coach Oliver Elders. "That's one of the hard-core lessons you learn in this game. El Dorado came after us and got us."

McDaniel finished with 22 points and Jones added 17. Henry Humphrey led Mann with 18 points and Maurice Scarbrough contributed 13.

Rust, a 6-3 senior, broke the Class AAAA tournament scoring record of 28 points set last year by Hall's David Becton. Rust's point total included 16 of 20 free throws.

Twenty-five into one will go, as the nation's top teams begin the climb toward the national title Saturday with the start of the NCAA basketball playoffs.

When it's over March 27, one of the 15 league champions and 10 at-large entries will be crowned king of the colleges.

Four regional playoffs, including 18 of the teams, get rolling Saturday with the seven remaining entries on call for the second round March 18 after first-round byes.

In East regional openers, it's Ivy League champion Penn against Duquesne at Morgantown, W.Va.; Villanova vs. Middle Atlantic Conference champ St. Joseph's, Pa., at University Park, Pa. and Southern Conference titlist Furman playing Fordham in New York.

The first-round games in the Midwest include Jacksonville against Western Kentucky, the Ohio Valley winner, and Miami of Ohio, the Mid-American Conference champ, matched against Marquette, in a doubleheader at South Bend, Ind.

Texas Christian, winner of the Southwest Conference, hosts Notre Dame in one of the Midwest games at Houston, Tex., with Houston and New Mexico State in the other.

Brigham Young, king of the Western Athletic Conference, takes on Utah State and Big Sky titlist Weber State meets Long Beach State in a doubleheader at Logan, Utah, in the Western regionals.

UCLA, the defending NCAA champion, tackles Southern California Saturday to decide the winner of the Pacific-8 Conference, which has one of the first-round byes. Winner of the Pacific-8 will play the University of the Pacific, the West Coast Conference winner, in the second round.

Big Eight Conference champion Kansas plays the winner of the Missouri Valley Conference March 18 in the Midwest. Louisville, which beat St. Louis 68-66 Thursday night, matches forces with Drake to decide the MVC champion. The three finished in a regular season tie.

Also in action in the second round will be Ohio State, winner of the Big Ten conference, against Southeastern Conference winner Kentucky, in the Midwest regionals.

Winner of the Penn-Duquesne game plays a second-round match with the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, yet to be named. North Carolina State upset Duke 68-61, South Carolina beat Maryland 71-63, North Carolina bombed Clemson 76-41 and Virginia clipped Wake Forest 85-84 Thursday to advance to the semifinals of the AAC playoffs.

In first round play of the College Division NCAA tournament, Thursday night, Evansville surprised Ashland, Ohio, 82-74, Central Michigan beat Augustana 63-59, Kentucky Wesleyan routed St. Olaf 94-79, Northeast Missouri State dropped North Dakota State 75-66, Seattle Pacific downed San Francisco State 75-68 and Puget Sound beat Cal Poly San Luis Obispo 81-69.

Swim Meet

AUSTIN (AP) — Southern Methodist took quick command of the 40th Southwest Conference swimming and diving championships Thursday night and the Mustangs are well on the way to their 15th consecutive championship.

SMU piled up 184 points to 102 for second place Texas. Others included Texas Tech 83, Arkansas 60, Texas A&M 59, TCU and Rice with 18 and 14, respectively.

Steve Boster of the Mustangs turned in a Gregory Pool record of 4:48.451 in the 500-yard freestyle and SMU took first place in each of the five final events.

The meet continues through Saturday night.

Other SMU first places included Ronnie Mills' 2:00.094 in the 200-yard individual medley, a 21.623 showing by Jerry Heidenreich in the 50-free style, a one-meter dive title by Cal Lock and a 400-yard medley relay victory in 3:36.137 for Coach Red Barr's troops.

Palmer and Heard Tied at Orlando

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Jerry Heard, tied with Arnold Palmer going into today's second round in the $150,000 Florida Citrus Open, credits his recent marriage with the stunning improvement in his game.

"I've only been married to Nancy for about nine months," the handsome, 23-year-old Californian said Thursday after catching Palmer with a six-under-par 66.

"I won about $6,000 last year before we got married, and about $40,000 after. My game is three times as good now as it was before I got married. My whole game, my whole life, did a complete turn-around."

He hasn't won in three years on the pro tour, never even led at the end of a round, but has won almost $16,000 this year, including a tie for fourth in the Big Crosby and a tie for ninth in the PGA National Championship.

"Oh, I've led on the golf course a time or two, but I'd immediately bogey the next hole and that would take care of that," he said. "At least this time I get to sleep on it."

Palmer, one of the early starters on the 6,849-yard Rio Pinar Country Club course, birdied five consecutive holes and seemed destined to hold the lead alone until Heard rolled in a 35-foot putt on the final hole, some four hours after Palmer had finished.

"I told my caddy, 'I've got to catch Palmer,'" said Heard, who was only seven years old when Palmer won his first professional tournament.

Then he grinned. "To tell you the truth, I was just trying to lag it up, and it went in the hole."

Charley Sifford, a 49-year-old veteran and one of the few blacks on the tour had a share of the lead, at six under, until he hit into an unplayable lie on his 17th hole and took a double bogey.

He dropped back to a 68 and was one of a large group tied at that figure. Lee Trevino also had a 68.

A group of six, including National Seniors champion Julius Boros, was just one stroke off the pace at 67. The others are Dan Sikes, Dick Lotz, Bert Green, Jerry McGee and New Zealand rookie John Lister.

U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin of England was well back with a 73. South African Gary Player had a 71. Masters champion Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus are not competing.

Palmer played a near-perfect round, hitting every green and missing only two fairways. But he wasn't happy, complaining about missed birdie opportunities, including three from inside eight feet.

Walton Fan
Club Can Reconvene

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Danny Walton was one of the most surprised guys when, in his rookie year with the Milwaukee Brewers last season, he became the fans' No. 1 hero.

The paying customers started a Walton Fan Club and held their meetings in the left field stands, where they could get close to their hero and cheer him on. Walton responded with a great start but by the end of the season, he had faded to a rather routine .257 batting average.

Now the Walton Fan Club can get ready to reconvene. Danny's hot again.

Walton tagged his third home run of the spring Thursday, rocketing a three-run pinch hit shot in the ninth inning that moved the Brewers to a 7-5 comeback victory over the San Francisco Giants.

In other exhibition games, the Chicago White Sox blitzed Philadelphia 9-2, St. Louis downed Boston 7-4, Baltimore clipped the Tokyo Giants 6-4, Oakland whipped California 6-1, Cleveland shut out the Lotte Orioles 2-0, San Diego defeated the Chicago Cubs 11-7, Los Angeles nipped the New York Mets 5-4, Cincinnati nipped Minnesota 9-3, Kansas City tripped the New York Yankees 7-3, Detroit edged Houston 8-7 and Atlanta downed Pittsburgh 5-2.

The Brewers, now 6-1 in the Arizona Cactus League, trailed 5-3 going into the ninth inning against the Giants. But Bobby Pena doubled and a walk and an error scored one run. Then Walton batted for George Koppacz and smashed his winning shot.

Carlos May continued his red-hot hitting and led the White Sox past Philadelphia. May tagged four straight hits, driving in three runs and raising his spring average to .429. Chicago had six doubles in a 16-hit attack.

Lou Brock slammed a three-run homer in the eighth inning—his third game winning hit in six games this spring—as the Cardinals whipped Boston. Brock is now batting .437.

The Baltimore Orioles, champions of U.S. baseball, and the Tokyo Nomiuri Giants, Japanese champions, staged their own little World Series with the Orioles coming out on top. Brooks Robinson homered for Baltimore and Sadaharu Oh, perennial Japanese home run king, drove in two of the Tokyo team's runs with looping singles in the first and ninth innings.

Rookie Mark Ballinger pitched five scoreless innings and Ray Lamb and Steve Dunning completed the shutout as Cleveland blanked the Lotte Orioles, Japan's other touring team.

Reggie Jackson clubbed his third homer of the spring and Oakland whipped California on the combined three-hit pitching of Rolfe Fingers, Bob Locker and Jim Roland. The game was played under the experimental three balls for a walk rule despite the protests of the Angels.

California's complaint over using the three balls experiment caused a heated telephone exchange between Charles O. Finley, owner of the A's and Dick Walsh, California's general manager.

San Diego bunched eight runs in the last two innings to defeat the Cubs. Larry Stahl had four hits for the Padres and Rafael Robles scored four runs. Ron Santo had four hits for the Cubs.

Jim Lefebvre's bases-loaded double in the ninth inning rallied Los Angeles past the New York Mets. Jerry Grote's ninth inning homer had given the Mets the lead.

Cincinnati won its first game after five losses, topping Minnesota with Johnny Bench's two-run double keying a four-run fourth inning. Harmon Killebrew's first inning double—seventh straight spring hit—helped the Twins to an early lead.

The Twins got good news another front when center fielder Cesar Tovar agreed to contract terms. That leaves outfielder Tony Oliva and pitcher Bill Zepp still unsigned.

Kansas City pushed four runs across in the 10th inning—four of them on Joe Keough triple—to defeat the New York Yankees. Amos Otis had a two-run homer for the Royals.

A bases-loaded walk to Kaline forced home Detroit winning run in the ninth inning as the Tigers edged Houston. Jim Northrup and Norm Cash crashed homers for Detroit.

Atlanta pushed across three unearned runs in the seventh inning and defeated Pittsburgh Singles by Dusty Baker, Manny Perez and Van Kelly sparked the rally.

Semifinals
in the NAIA
Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fairmont, W.Va., State collides with Eastern Michigan and Kentucky State runs up against Elizabeth City, N.C., State tonight in the semifinals of the NAIA basketball tournament.

The winners clash Saturday night for the title. Twelfth-seeded Elizabeth City, the big surprise in this 34th annual dribble derby, Thursday night knocked off Stephen F. Austin of Texas, No. 4 seed, 90-88.

Eastern Michigan, No. 6 seeded, disposed of third-seeded Eau Claire, Wis., State 87-80. Defending champion and top-seed Kentucky State and Fairmont State, seeded second, won as expected although the latter had a rough time before it eliminated North Carolina A&T 78-74. Kentucky State spanked ninth-seeded Grambling 93-81.

San Francisco Giants
National League—West
PROSPECTUS: Giants are about to undergo a face-lifting, but where the new faces will come from is questionable. Pitching staff needs help, and so does the infield. Several young prospects are on the horizon with impressive minor league credentials and Charlie Fox would like to work them into the lineup smoothly. The future of the Giants, it would seem, lies with them.
PITCHING: Juan Marichal, hampered by injuries, had his poorest season in 1970 in a decade of major league pitching. He finished 12 10 with an ERA of 4.14. Only Gaylord Perry lived up to expectations last year, winning 23 games, losing 13 with an ERA of 3.17. No other Giant pitcher won 10 games. Don McMahon won nine, Rich Robertson eight and Frank Roberger was 7.7. The infusion of young faces will start here—John Candelaria (from Yanks), Ron Bryant, Don Carrithers and Miguel Paez all figure to stick. Rating: C
CATCHING: Dick Dietz was one of few bright spots in 1970. He hit 300, 22 home runs and drove in 107 in his second season with team. Rating: B
INFIELD: Willie McCovey remains must feared hitter in league despite dropoff in statistics. He hit 289 last season, with 39 homers and 139 RBIs. Middle of infield wide open. With Hunt gone to Montreal, Giants will look at Bob Heise, who has glove but no bat. Hal Lanier and Tito Fuentes will split shortstop unless a prospect emerges in spring training to beat them both out. Neither are hitters. Jim Ray Hart, who bounced back from a visit to the minor leagues, stays at third. He finished at .282 last year. Rating: C
OUTFIELD: One of baseball's best. Bobby Bonds in right hit .302 with 26 homers, 78 RBIs and 48 stolen bases. Ken Henderson in left hit .294 with 17 homers, 88 RBIs and 19 stolen bases. In center, of course, Willie Mays, now nearing 40. He hit .291 with 28 homers and 83 RBIs last year and passed 3,000 hits. Rating: A
ROOKIES TO WATCH: Giants are high on a young outfielder, George Foster, 22 and will probably keep him around. Another young outfielder, Bernie Williams, 23, may also stay. Predicted Finish: 5th in West

Owners Right to Pay Out $500,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ack Ack will be out to prove his new owners were right when they shelled out $500,000 for the 5-year-old recently.

Ack Ack is the highweight and probable favorite for Saturday's $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap. He will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker over the 1 1/2 miles and was given 130 pounds in the field of 11.

A Chilean horse, Cougar II, is expected to provide the competition.

Ack Ack was bought several weeks ago by E.E. "Buddy" Fogelson and his actress wife Greer Garson, who have been rewarded with two victories since.

The son of Battle captured the $54,450 San Antonio Stakes in his last start by 3 1/4 lengths.

Other features around the nation Saturday include the $75,000 New Orleans Handicap at the Fair Grounds; the $25,000-added Virginia Belle Stakes at Bowie; $25,000-added Contra Costa Stakes at Golden Gate Fields; $35,000 Canadian Turf Handicap at Gulfstream and the $30,000 Paumonok Handicap at Aqueduct.

Elegant Heir, Tenacious Jr. and Boldwood are expected to vie for the winner's purse of $50,000 for the New Orleans feature at 1 1/4 miles.

The inaugural running of the Virginia Belle Stakes for 3-year-old fillies over six furlongs will include William S. Farish 3rd's Pas De Nom and Hobeau Farm's Blessed Angelica.

A field of 13 3-year-olds, headed by Two Worlds, Open Market, Triple Bend and Dominant Star, are entered in the Contra Costa Stakes over one mile. This race is a major stepping stone to the $100,000 California Derby on April 17.

Three hopefuls for the Paumonok at Aqueduct over six furlongs include Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Personality, Celestino Diliberto's Lion Sweets and Hickory Tree Stable's Towzie Tyke.

3 Arkansans in Running at Orlando

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Richard Crawford of Little Rock shot a four-under-par 68 Thursday in the first round of the $150,000 Florida Citrus Invitational golf tournament.

Crawford, who had nines of 36-32, was two shots off the pace set by Jerry Heard and Arnold Palmer.

Miller Barber of Texarkana, the leading money winner on the tour this year, was in a large group at 71. He had nines of 38-33. R. H. Sikes of Springdale shot a 73 with nines of 37-36.

Full Feud Between A's and Angels

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Charles O. Finley's controversial three-ball walk experiment flared into a full feud today between the Oakland A's owner and the California Angels.

General Manager Dick Walsh and Manager Lefty Phillips objected to playing games where a batter takes first base after three balls instead of four.

After heated discussion between Finley and Walsh during a long-distance telephone talk Thursday, the Angels did play a game under the regulation although Phillips had first threatened to take his club off the field.

Walsh said he would confer with American League officials as soon as possible to determine if games slated March 20 and 31 would continue the experiment.

Finley declares all games played by his A's in their Mesa training stadium against other American League teams will try out his latest idea. Finley says he has permission from baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, American League President Joe Cronin and the rules committee.

In the game, Angels pitchers allowed 11 walks and the A's three pitchers gave up just five.

Finley says the three-ball situation will lead to more action and hitting and increase the fan's interest.

Phillips says it will only hurt the pitchers.

Esposito Hits 100, Glad Its Over

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the first time ever to score 100 points in a National Hockey League season, it was just another record. Phil Esposito has been around for eight years and is getting harder and harder to excite.

"I'm glad it's over," he said calmly Thursday night after scoring his 59th and 60th goals against his cross-country cousins, the Los Angeles Kings. The score of the game, almost hidden by the number of records set, was 7-2 in favor of the Boston Bruins.

In the only other NHL game scheduled, the Vancouver Canucks proved rude hosts by whipping the Detroit Red Wings 7-3.

Well, with 11 games left after this one," he smiled, "I knew that sooner or later I'd get it. But I've been fortunate

State Opens With Win Over Hendrix

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State University's tennis team opened its season with a 8-1 victory over Hendrix College here Thursday.

The Indians won five of six singles matches and all three doubles matches.

Margalo Is Winner by 12 Lengths

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Margalo, owned by E. H. Wood and ridden by Danny Whited, scored a 12-length victory over a field of six other older fillies in Thursday's $7,500 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

Dust Commander, the 1970 Kentucky Derby winner, is top-weighted at 119 pounds in today's $7,500 feature race. Others entered in the six-furlong test are Sir Realist (111), Clem's Star (107), Radar Control (107), Yorkville (112), Like-Lady (111), Tropical Judge (112), Loud and True (107), Apache Way (112), Iron Control (112), Drakes Creek (112) and an entry of How Turn (112) and Big Dealer (112).

Margalo was timed in 1:11 for six furlongs while winning Thursday's feature. As the 6-5 favorite, Margalo paid $4.40, $3.20 and $2.60. Nuquill returned $5.40 and $3.60 and Cornada returned $3.80 to show.

Whited urged Margalo to the front as the field left the gate and she opened up a three-length lead going down the backstretch. The advantage had increased to four lengths on the turn and Margalo pulled away with ease.

Nuquill, ridden by J. L. Livey, passed Buckeye at mid-stretch and caught Cornada in the final strides to finish second.

Apple Jackie, winner of the first race, and Brother Joel, winner of the second, combined for a $252.20 daily double.

The crowd of 9,847 wagered $894,798.

USC and UCLA to Answer Big Questions

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nothing's changed. The styles of play figure to be just about the same as the last time UCLA met Southern California and the big questions remain:

—Can UCLA's top-ranked Bruins corral the hot-shooting Southern California guard tandem of Paul Westphal and Dennis Layton?

—What does USC Coach Bob Boyd plan to do against the mighty Bruin forward wall and cornerstone Sidney Wicks?

Saturday afternoon's Pacific-8 conference showdown, at the Bruins' Pauley Pavilion, pits the nation's No. 1 and No. 3-ranked teams with contrasting defensive strategies. The nationally televised game is a 15,000-seat sell-out.

UCLA won the earlier game 64-60 after trailing by nine points with 9 1/2 minutes to play. The Bruins scored just a single free throw in the last 9 1/2 minutes of that earlier game.

The Bruins and Trojans, both 24-1, are 1-2 in the Pac-8 with UCLA 13-0 and USC 12-1. A UCLA victory gives the Bruins an automatic berth into the NCAA Far West Regionals and USC goes home. If USC wins, it sets up a Monday night game for the berth. In that event, the Pac-8 title would be shared. A playoff game, if needed, would be played at Pauley Pavilion, the result of a coin flip earlier this week.

against Los Angeles and I like playing here. I'm just glad the pressure's off."

Esposito, who had tied Bobby Hull's two-year-old season mark of 58 goals the night before, went into the game with the Kings knowing he scores well against them—he now has 11 goals and eight assists in five games.

Esposito said he had no idea how many goals he could score in the remaining 11 games. He said if he wound up the season with 65 he would be satisfied.

He apparently is too far off the all-time pro hockey record for goals in a season. Alan "Boom Boom" Caron, now playing for the San Diego Gulls of the Western Hockey League, scored 77 goals for St. Louis of the Central League during the 1963-64 season.

Thinks Bailey Plays Best at Bat

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Where," the questioner asked Montreal Manager Gene Mauch, "would you prefer to play Bob Bailey. Third base or the outfield?"

"My favorite position for Bob Bailey," Mauch answered quickly, "is at bat."

Mauch has reason to be giddy about Bailey. It's been a decade since the Pittsburgh Pirates shelled out in the neighborhood of $135,000 to get Bailey's name on a contract—and that bonus still ranks as one of the largest ever paid to an untested youngster.

For five years with the Pirates, two with Los Angeles and the first with Montreal, Bailey not only was one of the highest paid bonus babies of all times but also one of the biggest busts of all times.

Then it happened.

Starting to streak when his batting average stood at .107, Bailey collected 89 hits in his next 228 at bats and finished the season with the best marks of his major league career—a .287 batting average, 84 runs batted in and 28 homers, one in every 13 at bats.

Bailey, who most likely will play third base, combines with right fielder Fusty Staub (.274, 30 homers, 94 RBIs) and first baseman Ron Fairly (.288, 15 homers, 61 RBIs) to give the Expos a fearsome threesome in the middle of the lineup. And Mauch expects even more from them this season.

And so the Expos' hopes start with that triumvirate. Unfortunately, they almost end there too, although trade acquisition Ron Hunt should help at second base and pitcher Carl Morton was the Rookie of the Year last season.

Hunt, acquired from San Francisco, and shortstop Bobby Wine fill out a solid infield complement with John Bateman, a more than adequate catcher. But there are two holes in the outfield, with only Staub set, and several holes on the pitching staff.

Mauch very likely will platoon at the other two outfield positions with seven candidates in the running—holdover Mack Jones, Adolpho Phillips, Don Hahn, Jim Fairey and Jim Gosger, plus rookies Boots Day and Clyde Mashore, who hit .294 and .308 respectively at Winnipeg.

Behind Morton on the starting staff there is Steve Renko, 13-11 last season, and hope. The hope consists of Bill "No Hit" Stoneman, John Strommayer and Mike Wegener, who Mauch hopes will blossom.

"Pitching is the most unresolved thing right now," Mauch admitted, but added cautiously: "We might have the answers."

If the answers are there, Mauch feels the Expos can climb to the .500 mark by winning 81 games, eight more than they did in their second year of operation last season.

"I think everybody's got to have a target," Mauch said. "We said 70 in '70 last year and it became the national slogan of Canada. I'm saying now we can make a run at 81."

So there it is for the Expos, and all of Canada: "81 in '71."

Rookie Shrugs Off Being Double-teamed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rookie Geoff Petrie of the Portland Trail Blazers has become accustomed to being double-teamed. He shrugs it off by hitting 30-footers.

"We don't usually double-team a player that far from the hoop," said Baltimore Coach Gene Shue Thursday night after the Blazers lost a 136-118 National Basketball Association game to the expansion team.

Petrie, who had been a doubtfutstarter because of a sore knee, quickly hit four in a row from 30 feet and beyond. That gave Shue reason to doubt his defensive strategy.

The victory snapped Portland's nine-game losing streak. Seattle ripped Detroit 130-97 and San Diego shoved aside Boston 115-91 in the only other NBA games scheduled.

There were no American Basketball Association games scheduled.

Portland Coach Rolland Todd is just as convinced that Petrie should be Rookie of the Year as Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin believes the honor should go to his rookie guard, Pete Maravich.

He notes that Petrie has been scoring 30 points a game since opponents began double-teaming him 15 games ago.

Petrie again scored 30 as Portland toppled a Baltimore team which played without injured center Wes Unseld. Earl Monroe played sparingly because of sore ankles.

Fred Carter led the Central Division champions with 24 points.

In Seattle, the SuperSonics never trailed in defeating Detroit for the first time this season. Don Smith collected 29 points and Spencer Haywood 28 for Seattle.

It was the fifth straight loss for Detroit, which got 22 points from Dave Bing.

At San Diego, the Rockets stopped Boston behind a 29-point performance by Stu Lantz. Elvin Hayes added 22. Jo Jo White scored 17 for the Celtics.

9-Foot Eddie Is Real New York Giant

By TOM TIEDE

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When wise-cracking Eddie Carmel was a kid in Tel Aviv he says his father used to take him on a leash to look at the Arabs.

Joke. But it wouldn't have been a bad idea at that. For Eddie Carmel is the biggest, most awesome Jew since Eleazar. Now 30 years old and living in a Bronx apartment with a very high ceiling, he is reportedly nine feet and five-eighths inches in height and claims by almost a head to be the world's tallest man.

His claim is not official. On an earth of 3.6 billion people, there may be someone somewhere with an inch or so on him. But when Eddie puts his 465 pounds to his boast, nobody but somebody who weighs 466 would argue the point.

"Not only am I the tallest man," he says—er, roars, "I'm also the most humorous. I have the lowest speaking voice, and I'm definitely the best looking."

Sure, sure, Eddie, anything you say.

Fortunately, Eddie doesn't say he's the tallest man ever. That would be too much. Giants as great or greater than he have existed throughout recorded mythology and fact. Eleazar the Jew was said to be 10 feet 2 inches. The 16th century's Archduke Ferdinand had a bodyguard allegedly 11 feet tall. There was an Irish giant named Patrick Cotter who "had a thumb the size of a normal man's wrist." And Goliath, whom Eddie regards as an ancestor ("Dann that David") was supposed to have measured six cubits and a span, about 9 feet 9.

But though Eddie Carmel is not unique, he'll do on the streets of New York City. He wears a size 36 shoe, keeps his pants on with a 60-inch belt, sleeps in a 10-foot bed that's "cramped," eats from 6 to 10 pounds of meat at a serving and surely must be one of the wonders of the modern world.

"The biggest problem I have," he says almost impulsively (impulsively!), "is the airplanes. They fly too low. I gotta carry a fly swatter around all the time."

He's kidding, naturally. Eddie is always kidding. He found out long ago that kidding is the only way to stay sane in a world of midgets. "I could walk the Mojave desert at 3 a.m. and somebody would still come up and ask what's new besides Ho-Ho-Ho." If he responded to every inquiry seriously, he says, he would be a regular visitor to the world's longest psychiatric couch.

So there's no doubt about it. Airplanes aren't really Eddie's biggest problem. People are. Despite his good-natured philosophy that "to me, I'm normal and everybody else is odd," he is in society the square peg. He can't escape the title of freak. Usually, it's only bothersome in a minor way, such as having people stare, goggle, or give him a wide berth. But sometimes it can be agony; recently the kids in his neighborhood staged a cruel game of "get the giant," gathered in hooting bands every time he stepped outside his door, and tormented him to the extent that he was forced to call in police protection.

"The kids really got to me," he says. "I had hurt my leg and had to walk around on crutches. They'd run in front of me, call me names, block my way and that kind of thing. They succeeded in knocking me down a couple of times."

But if the gaping, sometimes thoughtless crowds are Eddie's chief source of misery, they are ironically his source of income, too. Like most true prodigies (that's a kind word for freak), he has capitalized on his unusualness by becoming a public performer. He has been a wrestler given only Nazi-like opposition. He has been good for a chuckle on most of the late night TV talk shows. He has been the attraction of several circuses and carnivals. He has even been in the films—"I was the monster in 'The Brain That Would Not Die.'"

And, outwardly anyway, he seems to accept the occupation of being a tourist attraction. That is to say he doesn't dwell much on the

the Superlatives

STILL A GROWING BOY at nine feet tall, Eddie Carmel hopes to reach the 10-foot mark.

philosophies of his circumstances. "I think about life, sure," he says, "but I also think about Look, about Newsweek, about Sports Illustrated." In other words: "How can I resent people looking at me? That's my business. I'm doing the shopping centers now. They hire me to draw crowds. I may get a little tired of the same questions and autographs. But I know if it weren't for the crowds I'd be out of business."

Business is the one similarity between Eddie Carmel and the rest of mankind. A shekel is the great equalizer.

And for the giant, business may be looking up—literally. "I'm still growing," he says, "my goal is to be 10 feet tall." If he makes it, he feels, he'll be walking around in size 36 patent leather—with which, he grins, he may be able to stamp out a few Arabs.

The baseball game played between Brooklyn and Boston of the National League on May 1, 1920, went 26 innings. The game was called on account of darkness after three hours and 50 minutes of play.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Help at Hand Now In Kidney Failure

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Would you please explain uremic poisoning of the kidneys? My brother had it this summer and we were sure he was going to die. He was just that bad and the doctor had given him up. But he got over it and got to go home. He's been home about three months. But people say it will come back. Is this true? If so, how often do they have these attacks? And would the antibiotics be as effective next time?

Dear Reader—Uremic poisoning refers to a build-up in the body of urea, the waste product from metabolizing protein. The protein can come from the diet or, if the person is not eating enough, from the actual use of body protein. It is normal to have some urea in the blood but excess amounts are filtered out by the kidneys.

Anything that causes the kidneys to decrease their function in filtering out waste products can cause a build-up of urea. A person with high blood pressure and kidney disease may gradually develop uremic poisoning. A young man with an injury to his kidneys can develop it. Kidney failure can follow prolonged shock if the kidneys don't get enough blood. A number of toxic agents can affect the kidneys and cause them to fail. Of course, there are infections and inflammations that cause nephritis that may result in kidney failure. Even a mechanical obstruction in the outflow of urine can cause the problem if it is not corrected.

It is not possible to tell if a person is going to have a recurrence of uremia or not without knowing what caused it in the first place. Your comment about antibiotics suggests that the doctor thought an infection caused your brother's uremia. The fact that he has recovered suggests he will be able to have adequate kidney function for quite some time and perhaps not have any more trouble.

I am optimistic about helping people with kidney failure if it is not caused by disease of the arteries involving other parts of the body. There are many medical centers now using artificial kidney devices that can often be used once a week to restore the normal chemical balance of the body. New and cheaper devices are being developed for home use.

Barbizon, Avenger to Meet Again

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — When unbeaten Staunch Avenger went to the post in his last outing, he was the 2-5 favorite with $40,000 on his nose.

When he crossed the finish line, Staunch Avenger had suffered his first loss in six trips to the post and the Arkansas Derby picture was muddled.

The culprit was Barbizon Streak, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Udouj of Fort Smith and trained by Oran Battles.

"We really expected our horse to win," said Udouj. "It didn't surprise us too much at all."

"I thought we had a good chance with the weights and everything," Battles said.

Staunch Avenger carried 126 pounds that day and spotted Barbizon Streak 11 pounds. Gin Collins, trainer of Staunch Avenger, later complained that 126 pounds was too much for a 3-year-old early in the season.

"The weight made a little difference alright," Battles said. "But, our horse had a little difficulty leaving the gate. He was sitting on the tail gate when the gates opened and it took a little something out of the horse because he had to run so hard the first three eighths."

That was two weeks ago at six furlongs. The two are expected to meet Saturday in the $25,000 Rebel Handicap at one mile and 70 yards, one of the last major prep races for the $50,000 Arkansas Derby on April 3.

"I think sure he'll run a mile or further," Battles said. "He rests a lot in the stall and nothing bothers him around the barn. He has a nice disposition and those are the makings of a real good horse."

A. W. "Doc" Lavin expects Barbizon Streak, Staunch Avenger and six or seven others to start Saturday in the Rebel.

Among those expected to try the middle distance are Saltwell, Knight Counter, Patient Hands, Compe Deux, Mr. Copy Chief and Bopdavele, who worked a mile in 1:38 earlier in the week.

Barbizon Streak is a result of Udouj's attempt to improve his stable.

He purchased Barbizon Streak in foal to Barbizon in Kentucky and brought the mare back to his farm near Fort Smith. The purchase was one of many in an attempt to upgrade his stable.

"We're after good horses and by next year we hope to have 10 to 15 horses running in either allowance races or for $10,000-$15,000 claiming races or up."

Udouj said he hooked up with Battles about four years ago after losing his trainer.

"I wouldn't trade Booger Battles for any trainer in America," he said. "I am around the barn a lot and pay the bills, but Booger is boss. The only reason racing doesn't hear more of this man is because he rarely has much to say. He just isn't the type person to hand out press releases from the winner's circle."

With Gene Goff's departure to Florida, Udouj appears to be the heir apparent to the title of Arkansas' top breeder.

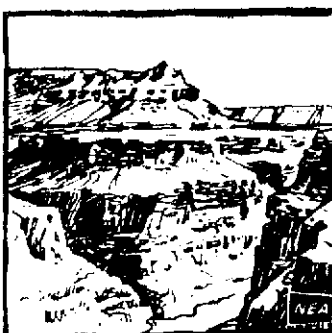

"Improving the quality of Arkansas-breds is a gradual process," he said. "We're going to have to get a lot better mares in the state, but I think it's great for the state."

Udouj and his wife stay at Hot Springs during the Oaklawn meeting, but when it is over they return to Fort Smith where he is president of a furniture company.

"To enjoy this sport, one must get involved in it," Udouj said. "Mainly, it is something my wife and I can do together. I don't play golf or go on fishing trips. She isn't one for club work. Horse racing has given us togetherness."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado is the most outstanding example of stream erosion in the world. The World Almanac notes that the immense, varicolored fissure is 217 miles long, four to 18 miles wide at the brim and between 4,000 and 5,500 feet deep. The canyon was discovered by Spanish explorers in 1540.

PERSONAL FINANCE

One of the unpleasant facts of current life is that many of us will eventually have to put our parents in nursing homes.

The burden of caring for the bedridden and senile at home makes strenuous demands on any family. Many simply cannot meet them. As a result, some one million aged and sick now live in the 24,000 nursing homes across the United States.

The almost universal guilt felt by those who place parents in these homes is often a deterrent to making a proper selection. Investigation is postponed until the last possible minute or perhaps even avoided completely.

The whole process of selection can be complicated by a factor many don't foresee. Homes in heavily populated areas frequently are booked solid and have waiting lists as well.

The wait for an opening is made all the less bearable by the knowledge that death is the liberator of most nursing home beds.

Whether you begin early or late, an investigation of homes under consideration is a must. Stricter regulation of such facilities, and the profit-making possibilities, have combined to upgrade their quality, but some are still substandard.

Here's how the administrator of one nonprofit facility suggests that an investigation be done:

• First, take an overall look at the place. Are the surroundings comfortable? Is the atmosphere pleasant? Do the patients seem afraid? Are the furnishings decent, or do they look like rummage sale rejects?

• Check for odors. Nursing homes are burdened with a variety of sanitation problems, all of them hard to control. Don't expect miracles, but if odors are not obtrusive, it's a sign of good housekeeping.

• Be suspicious of closed areas. Forbidding visitors to

1,000 mph Tube Train Under Study

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — The federal government is backing research on a passenger train that would travel up to 1,000 miles an hour through a tube containing thin air at a temperature of 450 degrees below zero.

A $121,337 Department of Transportation grant to determine the feasibility of such a system was announced Wednesday for Stanford Research Institute, which is working on the project.

An institute spokesman said this marked the first time the federal government had taken a financial interest in research on the concept, which has been studied in the United States and Japan for several years.

The objective is a pressurized train that would roll on rubber tires until it reached a 50-mile-an-hour speed through a tube where a partial vacuum had been created to minimize air resistance. Then the vehicle would be lifted off the ground by magnetic forces and whiz silently through the thin air.

Magnets spaced the length of the train would interact with opposing magnetic forces in an aluminum guide strip to life the cars about a foot above the guideway and keep them centered.

A 500-foot-long test guideway nearing completion at the institute's headquarters here will be used for testing a one-fifth-scale model after at least a year's work on a feasibility study, a spokesman said.

The Federal Railroad Administration wants the study to aim at a safe, smooth, quiet and pollution-free ride.

The method of propelling the trains and the ways of achieving temperatures near absolute zero to make the magnets superconductive will be two areas of study, institute scientists say.

Jet engines, rocket motors and other driving forces have been considered to power the trains, but researchers say they favor a linear-induction motor, using the same electric forces that hold the train suspended in air to pull it forward.

some areas can be justified on the grounds of simple privacy. Wholesale restrictions, however, may be a device aimed at keeping visitors in an area reserved for "show."

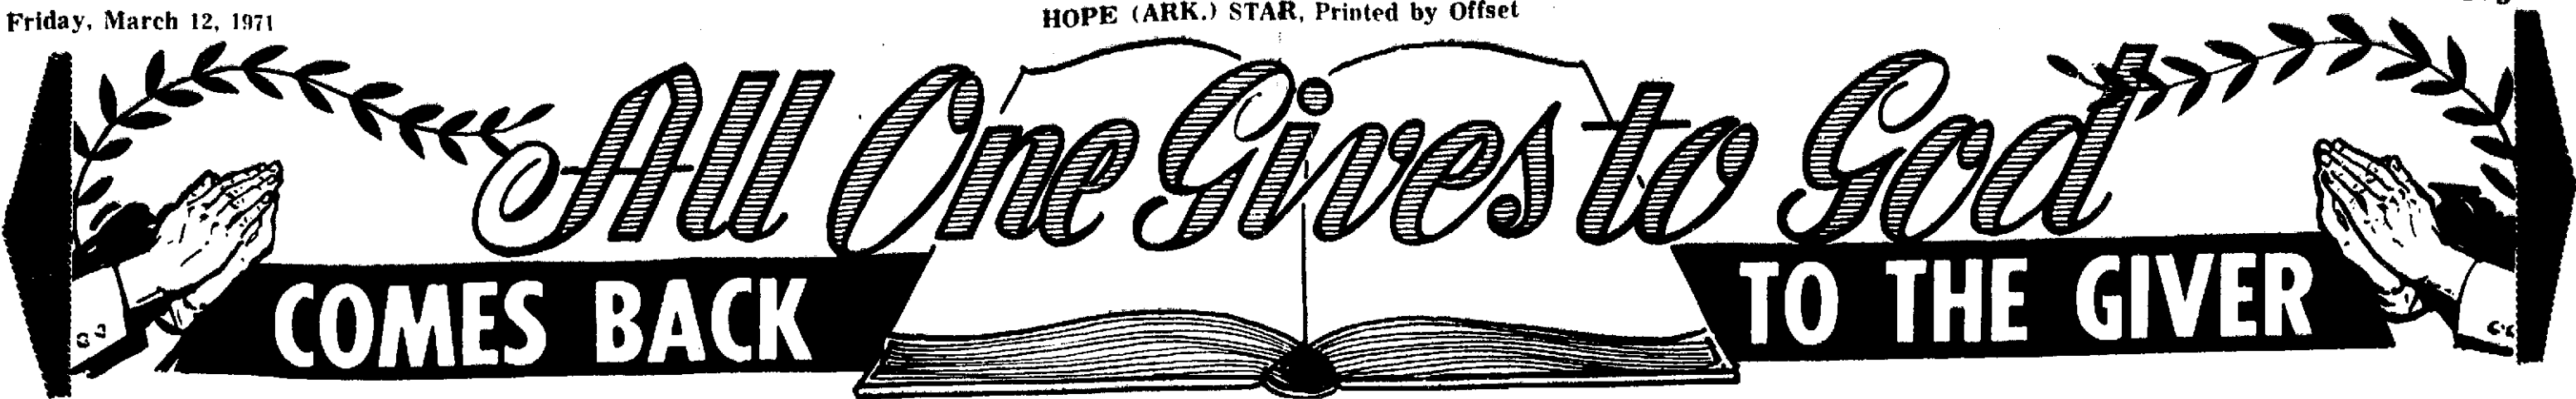

• The kitchen is often a good test of a nursing home. The way it is equipped and maintained is often indicative of the standard of the home as a whole. Ask to see some menus, too, and see if you can get a peek at what's for dinner.

• Be cautious about accepting the judgments of the home's residents. Illness and old age inject a bias into such reports and it is easy to be misled.

One crucial question might not even have occurred to you: Ask if the home accepts residents eligible for Medicare, the federal program to aid the aged.

The passage of this legislation was the impetus for much of the new construction of homes, but disillusion has set in. At least 500 nursing homes now refuse patients under Medicare because of the red tape and delays in payment.

HAVE

Do you ever consider the meaning of a day?... Just a single day?... One day out of the 365-day year? With you, what does a day mean??? Actually, it means 1440 moments of opportunity. It means 24 hours of precious fleeting lifetime. It means that life at best is short... that it is only a little while we have to make the journey down through the valley of time. Just what are you doing with this day and every day? You sin when you uselessly spend the days God gave you. Each day on the calendar is like "a sheet of paper white whereon each one of us may write his word or two and then comes night... though thou have time but for a line, be that sublime; not failure but low aim is crime."

Go to church this week and ask the Lord to help you keep your aim high. Ask Him to help you plan well every moment of every hour of every day. What does a day mean to you?

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

'Blind Week' Designated March 15-20

The Hope Lions Club has designated March 15-20 as "Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind Week" and will sponsor a community-wide effort to provide information on the rehabilitation center in Little Rock and to enlist financial support for the program through sustaining membership contributions to AEB.

Haskell Jones, manager of Radio Station KXAR, has been named chairman for the drive and coordinator of activities. Hope residents not already enrolled as contributors to AEB will receive letters of invitation signed by Jones and by Edward G. Barry, Sr., Little Rock, AEB state membership chairman.

Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind is an internationally-known rehabilitation center for the blind and visually handicapped, sponsored by Lions Clubs and established following a resolution adopted at the State Lions Convention of 1946. Since 1947, it has served more than 2,500 persons from 46 states and 12 other countries. A number of them have come from Hempstead County and surrounding areas.

A non-profit organization, AEB derives operating income from the tuition paid by state agencies referring clients for rehabilitation training and from the contributions of Lions Clubs and other interested groups and individuals. It is a charter member of the National Accreditation Council.

textile problem, the White House said, include pressing Congress for quota legislation, and direct negotiations between the United States and other textile countries, mainly Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea. The House, with Mills' support, passed a bill covering textile quotas last year. However, Mills said repeatedly he would prefer a negotiated solution and, after the bill died in the Senate, he renewed efforts for an agreement.

In a tart rejoinder to Nixon's statement, he said: "Obviously our trade problems go far beyond just the question of textiles and I cannot understand how under any circumstances a statutory program for the protection of a single industry can be developed which is exclusive of consideration of statutory programs for other deeply affected industries."

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on Ways and Means, conferred with Nixon for an hour before the President's rejection of the Japanese offer was announced. He told newsmen he is disturbed by reports Mills had negotiated the industry offer and noted support by one member of the Ways and Means Committee does not constitute U.S. approval.

Mills, in a thrust at the official government-to-government negotiations which stalled, said it is "difficult to understand an out-of-hand rejection of the industry's proposal after two years of unsuccessful attempts to negotiate a settlement."

Industry is decentralized in Switzerland and industrial strikes are unknown there.

Proclamation

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, GREETINGS:

WHEREAS, The Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind, Incorporated, is a non-profit international rehabilitation center sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Arkansas; and

WHEREAS, over 2,500 blind and visually handicapped persons have been trained at the Center, coming from 47 states and 12 other countries; and

WHEREAS, the dedicated mission of the Center is to serve in the fields of rehabilitating and training the blind for more normal useful and even happy integration into sighted communities; and

WHEREAS, the goal of the Center is to serve more blind people better and to continue to improve the services and to widen horizons so that more blind people may better know how to serve themselves; and

WHEREAS, the Lions Club of Hope is planning a public information campaign to acquaint the citizens of this community with facts about the education and rehabilitation of the blind by federal, state and local programs;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Sam Strong, Mayor of the City of Hope, do hereby proclaim the week of March 15-20, 1971, as ARKANSAS ENTERPRISES FOR THE BLIND WEEK in Hope and ask all our citizens to join with me in supporting AEB and the sight services program of our Lions.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Hope to be affixed this 10th day of March, 1971

Thinks Lindsey Should Quit

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily News says a majority of its readers who responded to a poll think Mayor John V. Lindsay should quit the Republican party and become a Democrat—but not for the purpose of seeking the presidency.

Of more than 23,000 readers who replied, 54 per cent favored a party switch by the mayor, who was elected to his second term on a Liberal-independent ticket after losing in the GOP primary. However, 68 per cent said they did not think he should run for president.

The News said far more Democrats than Republicans thought the mayor was presidential timber giving incentive to prisoners, chiefly discipline, was more desirable than paying the inmates. "If I was in charge, I'd hang the strap back on the wall, and when they didn't do right, they'd lay down and get it laid on them," Fletcher said.

Corporal punishment has been banned by federal courts as a prison disciplinary device. Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, who opposed the bill, said he could not endorse payments to prisoners "in any way, shape, form or fashion."

"I think we have gone overboard—way overboard, I think—in trying to rehabilitate the inmates with services and programs and classes," Hendrix said. "All of this didn't exist except for the last four years."

Fletcher said payments to "incorrigibles" were indefensible. "Why don't we make payments to the victims?" he asked.

Arguing in the House in support of the bill to abolish the fee system, Rep. A. Jan Thomas of near West Memphis said there were no checks and balances in current state law to prevent abuses of the system.

Under the fee system, such county officials as sheriffs, circuit clerks, assessors and deputy prosecutors collect fees in the performance of their duties. The money is used for the operations of their offices with surplus amounts going into the county treasury.

The bill, which also would abolish the fee system for municipal and state officers, would have continued the collection of fees. But it would have required the money to be deposited in the proper governmental fund. Officials then would be paid from the fund, as officials in counties that do not have the fee system are paid.

Thomas, who sponsored the bill with Rep. Ron Archer of Russellville, said the bill "only affects officials putting more into their own pocket than they are allowed by law."

Extension of Legislature Up to House

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Whether or not the Arkansas Legislature recesses next week is up to the Arkansas House.

The Senate approved on a voice vote Thursday a resolution calling for a recess next week, with legislative business to resume March 22. If the House approves the resolution, the legislators would recess for one week.

However, a majority of the House members have indicated that they favor continuing on with their work without a recess. Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs suggested Thursday that the legislature take Monday off to give its Joint Budget Committee extra time to work on budget matters and the proposed new revenue stabilization law.

Tempers flared from time to time in the Senate Thursday as the upper chamber debated whether to recess or continue the legislative process without interruption. Smith told the House Thursday that the legislature would need no more than two weeks to finish its work.

The Senate defeated another resolution Thursday calling for a two-week recess. Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff, sponsor of both resolutions, gave notice of reconsideration on the resolution for a two-week recess.

Earlier in the week, 58 House members indicated they favored working straight through, 18 favored a one-week recess and 10 voted not to work today and Monday.

The Senate approved a resolution Thursday to work today and then not return to work until Tuesday.

on which emergencies were listed as they arose, and a bulletin board giving constantly changing information on latest happenings.

Gathered around the phones, maps, and boards were the city administrators working on problems being sent by message form and by phone. In the realism of the situation, it was hard to remember that these problems were actually being simulated in another room in the building.

In addition to County Judge Finis Odom, Hempstead County Civil Defense Director Mrs. Geneva P. Downing, and other county and city officials, personnel from State Civil Defense in attendance included: E.E. "Gene" Talburt, State Civil Defense Director, Robert Cypert, State Office, Conway, and Pete Flocks, Area Civil Defense Coordinator from Fort Smith.

State officials from State Departments working with their county counterparts in the exercise, included Burton Zavelo, Emergency Welfare Service; Bob Horn, State Radiological Defense Officer; Jack Cottingham, Planning Consultant, State Health Department; Sgt. Bill Read, State Police; and Col. Homer Hayden, State Military Department.

Richard L. Holt, Jr., who directed the simulation exercise, emphasized that in time of disaster, key leaders in the community must be reachable to make the major decisions. Also he said that by grouping leaders together in one room equipped for emergencies, the members of the departments could work as a team as they would have to do in an actual emergency.

The officials themselves seemed impressed with the smoothness with which the mock disaster was handled and all felt that the one system for all departments was a major factor in saving time and lives during a disaster. "Officials from State Civil Defense and State Departments will continue working in Hempstead County assisting local officials with emergency operations procedures and plans," Marion Johnson working with Holt in the direction of the exercise, made clear to the group.

WGN-TV, Chicago; KDAL-TV, Duluth, Minn., and KWGN-TV, Denver, all owned by WGN Continental Broadcasting Co., and WBAL-TV, Baltimore.

Radio station KRNS, Burns, Ore., told the Army Recruiting Command it is no longer entitled to free time because its public service time is reserved for organizations without access to advertising budgets.

As for the Army's proposed enlistment bonus, the Marine memo cited various pay comparisons and voiced fear that "such a program by one service may require USMC to resort to the draft."

Under the Army plan, an enlistee who volunteered to spend three years in a combat unit—artillery, armor or infantry—would receive a $1,000 a year bonus. On an interim basis, the Army has asked for proficiency pay—essentially a bonus—for men in combat arms.

The Marine memo said this could result in some Army corporals making more money than some Marine warrant officers or some Army sergeants making more than some Marine captains.

The Navy manpower office declined to discuss the situation.

A spokesman said the Air Force wants to more than triple its recruiting advertising budget during fiscal 1972, though none of the $6.9 million it seeks is for paid radio or television time. He said the Air Force would await evaluation of the Army program.

SALT Talks Resume, No End Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — With prospects considered poor for a settlement anytime soon, American envoys set out today for Vienna and round four of the Soviet-U.S. Strategic Arms Limitation Talks.

Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator Gerard Smith received his final instructions from President Nixon Thursday and left the White House meeting prepared to reject a Soviet proposed limitation on defensive missiles without a simultaneous restriction on offensive weapons systems.

The Soviets, on the other hand, have made clear they will not accept a U.S. plan for an offensive-defensive weapons curb unless it includes nuclear-armed American planes assigned to West Europe.

Further dimming the outlook for an accord during the two-month Vienna meeting, which starts Monday, is recent U.S. intelligence indicating the Soviets are building a new intercontinental ballistic missile.

This followed earlier information the Soviets had slowed deployment of their big SS9 missiles—a development some U.S. disarmament proponents read as a sign of Kremlin interest in an arms curb deal.

have set up informal councils to develop cooperation between their two systems.

President Nixon, in a speech to the conference Thursday, called for a "genuine reform" of the American judicial system and endorsed the idea of a national center for state courts as well as more money to finance the reforms.

"Throughout a tumultuous generation," Nixon said, "our system of justice has helped America improve herself; there is an urgent need now for America to help the courts improve our system of justice."

As evidence of an "impending crisis in the courts," Burger said most criminals are not arrested or tried, those who are caught and charged are not tried quickly and those who are convicted are not punished promptly because of delays in the appeals process.

In the civil area, he said people who cannot afford the high cost of litigation but are too well off to qualify for legal aid "are forced to stand by in frustration and often in want, while they watch the passage of time eat up the value of their case."

Burger added: "We are rapidly approaching the point where this quiet and patient segment of Americans will totally lose patience with the cumbersome system that makes people wait two, three, four or more years to dispose of an ordinary civil claim."

Court costs, not including lawyers' fees, now run as high as $250 an hour, he said. To help ease the burden, Burger suggested judges impose heavy fines on parties who carry cases they could have settled up to jury selection before their lawyers reach an agreement.
